

Authors

Martin HRABÁLEK is Assistant Professor at the Department of Territorial Studies, Faculty of Regional Development and International Studies, Mendel University, Brno.

Jan NĚMEC is Assistant Professor at the Department of Political Science, Faculty of International Relations of the University of Economics, Prague.

Sándor Gyula NAGY is Associate Professor at the Corvinus University of Budapest and a former Deputy Director of Academic Affairs of the Institute for Foreign Affairs and Trade, Hungary, where he was a Senior Research Fellow specialised for Latin American affairs.

Judit RICZ is Research Fellow at the Institute of World Economics, Centre for Economic and Regional Studies, where she is responsible for the Latin American region. She is also teaching at the Corvinus University of Budapest, as Assistant Professor, and is mainly involved in courses related to development economics and Latin America.

Zoltán DUBÉCZI is Chief Advisor of the Hungarian Central Bank responsible for educational affairs and the Secretary General of the Hungarian Rectors' Conference; he was the main organiser of the Hungarian execution of the Ciência sem Fronteiras program.

Barnabás SZABÓ is Junior Research Fellow at the Institute for Foreign Affairs and Trade, Hungary. He is also a PhD candidate at the Central European University, Budapest.

Bartłomiej ZNOJEK is Latin America analyst at the Polish Institute of International Affairs (PISM).

Barbora JANUBOVÁ is Assistant Professor at the University of Economics in Bratislava, Slovak Republic.

Maurício DA COSTA CARVALHO BERNARDES, Brazilian Diplomat, Counsellor for Trade and Investments, Embassy of Brazil to Buenos Aires, former Head of the Central and Eastern European Division (2013–2017), Brazilian Ministry of Foreign Affairs.